Incipient Blaze at Mallory Barn Seems Work of Incendiary

Complaint has been made to the police of an attempt to fire the barn owned by Marshall H. Mallory, 206 Park Place. The structure is expensive of its kind. This morning a pile of ashes was found in the rear of the building. The flames had blazed enough to scorch the timbers of the barn and then died out. Detective Fox has been instructed to make an investigation.

CHOIR SINGER SUES FOR CHILD

College Courtship Romance Turns Out Unhappily for Bride.

The aftermath of a college courtship was presented in the Superior Court, civil side, before Judge Howard J. Curtis this morning when Helen Price of New York, the beautiful young wife of Alder Price of South Beach, asked the court to grant her the custody of her little baby girl who was born in September, 1907. Young Price, who is the son of Dr. Sherman Price, formerly of New York city, but now retired and residing in Darien attended college at Yale. He had met his young wife before his school days. The courtship continued throughout his school-life, they being wedded before his education had been completed. They were married in New York on June 21, 1907. They lived in New York and later moved to South Beach.

It was only a short time ago that Mrs. Price left her husband because of his alleged cruelty to her, and went to New York to live with her aunt, a Miss Isabelle Clark. There is at present a divorce suit pending in the Superior Court against Price brought on the ground of cruelty. A counsel for Price produced a letter from Mrs. Price to her husband in which inquiry was made of him regarding the condition of the child, although, Counsel Carter declared, the mother knew the child was not well. Mrs. Price said that she did not know the condition of her child because she wished only to converse with her husband in her letters in a business like manner, relating only her own affairs.

Miss Clark, the aunt of Mrs. Price with whom she makes her home, and whom the plaintiff calls "mamma," as on the day she was born her mother died, testified to the court that she had a sufficient income to look after both her niece and grandniece. As present Mrs. Price is a singer in a New York church choir, receiving an annual income of $300.

Little Girl Knocked

Down by Farm Wagon

Her Family and Friends Block Captain Arnold's Office, But He Decides It's Civil Matter.

John Koochis, who on weeks days lived the peaceful life of a farmer in Easton, hitched up and drove to Bridgeport last Saturday evening, and while driving slowly along Steuben street ran into a car driven by Martha Gagerman, daughter of Abraham Gagerman of 37 Steuben street. An arrest was made and Capt. Arnold of this morning decided that Koochis might go to the station if he had reported to the 2nd Precinct Station that he was driving slowly at the time of the accident. It is probable that a civil suit will be brought, Gagerman and his clan of a dozen families crowded Capt. Arnold's office.

LENA SMITH FINED

In the city court today, Lena Smith, who was arrested on June 8th for keeping a house of ill repute in the Berkshire Flats on State street, was fined $50 and costs, while a man giving his name as Frank Herrmann, a frequenter, was fined $25 and costs. The charges were not against the 2nd Precinct, another frequenter. It was her first offense.

TWO PICKPOCKETS FORFEIT BONDS

(Special from United Press.) South Norwalk, June 21.—Two alleged pickpockets failed to appear in court today to answer to charges of "breach of the peace" and their bonds of $100 each were forfeited. The men who gave their names as John Dale, aged 25, and Rudolph Seaton, aged 40, were arrested yesterday afternoon at Roton Point.

AGED FATHER ARRESTED TODAY

(Special from United Press.) South Norwalk, June 21.—Louis Marinelli, an Italian who yesterday shot and probably fatally wounded Marteneo Frerensio, aged 70, following an altercation regarding Marinelli's intentions to the elder man's daughter, was arrested here today and will be held pending the outcome of the man's injuries. Frerensio is at the hospital in a critical condition.

AUTO SPEEDER JAILED

(Special from United Press.) New Haven, June 21.—Charged with violating the automobile law, Hans Ward, an engineer of Portchester, N. Y., was today sentenced to five days in jail. He took an appeal and was released on a bond of $200. Ward was arrested Saturday for exceeding the speed limit while going to the Yale-Cornell game.

GAMBLERS FINED

(Special from United Press.) New Haven, June 21.—Charged with keeping a gambling place, the Blazes of Adeline street was fined $25 in the police court today. James Seamsky, John Smith, Rudolph Dorland and Sammie Books were each fined $25 for frequenting the place. The men were arrested yesterday following a raid on the place.

OBJECTION TO SALOON IN JACQUES' PLACE

A hearing on the application of William Hart for an application to conduct a saloon in the building formerly occupied by James Jacques, was held today before the Board of Commissioners. The Law Enforcement League, through whose efforts Jacques was driven out of the place, were heard in opposition to the application. The place, they had a number of witnesses, including a few of the local police officers who told of the conditions existing about the place. It was also objected to as an unsuitable person, he having been the bartender for Jacques. The commissioners refused the application.

HELD FOR BURGLARY

(Special from United Press.) New Haven, June 21.—William Brach, aged 27, who says that he comes from Meriden, was arraigned in the police court here today on the charge of burglary and his case was continued until the next term of the superior court under a bond of $1,000. Brach was arrested early today for burglarizing a barber on Fortale street.

HOWLAND'S REPORT IS REPRESENTED IN COLLEGES OF NEW ENGLAND

Bridgeport Contingent Numbers 75 in Membership of Yale Classes, Many of Whom Graduate in a Few Days.

Many Avail Themselves of Last Period in Which High School Education Avails for Entrance to Yale Law School—The Men and Who They Are—A Few Young Women on List.

Bridgeport has always been represented in the undergraduate ranks of the various New England colleges and is particularly well so this year. Yale, because of its proximity, is the most favored, but by no means possesses a monopoly of the Bridgeport aspirants for degrees. Some of the boys in selecting a more distant college have shown a wise foresight, realizing that in severing the "ties that bind" they are also getting beyond the vision of the far-reaching parental eye, which seems to gaze upon New Haven as easily as upon Bridgeport. The special fields of training which the professional and the technical schools have to offer are often the cause of drawing Bridgeport boys away from Yale.

Immediate interest centers in those who are soon to come back with newly acquired degrees, among whom are John A. Hurty of Yale, a curious state of affairs exists in the graduating class of the Sheffield Scientific School, not a Bridgeport name appearing. The Rev. Mr. DeForest has seven candidates for sheepskins. The Stratford boys are: Vernon Monroise, Raymond E. Munson, Harold F. DeLaune, Donald J. Curtis, Henry Leroy Lewis, and Robert C. Lewis and his brother, Fred B. Lewis. The latter two boys, graduates of Dr. Lewis and have taken high honors throughout the course, as has William Leroy Lewis also. Robert I. Hulmer, B. S., 1909, will receive the degree of Electrical Engineer from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, while Albert Harlow will represent Bridgeport at Western. Edward E. Shaw, B. S., 1909, graduated last week at the Springfield Training School and will enter Y. M. C. A. work.

And the city is represented in the colleges for young women. Miss Honora Elizabeth Mulvihill, daughter of Former Mayor Denis Mulvihill, having recently graduated from Smith college, with high standing, after specialising in Latin.

Miss Charlotte Smith of Stratford, daughter of John M. Smith, was graduated from Wellesley. Among the undergraduates, whose list of glory is yet to come, are many Bridgeport boys. The Junior class are: Arthur E. Baker, now an editor of the Courant and of the Literary Monthly; Harvey C. Warren, son of Col. Frank C. Warren; Clayton T. Cochran, son of Charles S. Cochran the photographer; Ralph D. Whipple, son of F. W. Whipple; and Edward E. Shaw, son of Robert A. Gibney, son of Virgil P. Gibney; William D. Bishop; and Edward B. Beardsley. Of the Freshmen there are: Laurence M. Cornwall, son of Jesse B. Cornwall; Howard V. Curtis, son of Judge Howard J. Curtis; and T. Veit, son of Henry F. Veit of the Hub Clothing House; Dever Cady Warner, grandson of I. DeVer Warner; and William H. Whitcomb, son of the East Side market man.

"Shet" is apparently more popular than academic with the Bridgeport boys, the junior class having ten of the Freshmen number eleven. The Juniors are: Wooster C. Canfield, son of Attorney Charles S. Canfield; Edward C. Canfield, son of John C. Canfield; Henry A. Lambert; Walter J. Damstoff, son of Knud J. Damstoff of Damstoff & Myers, druggists; John G. Gidney, son of John G. Gidney, Jr.; Hugh E. Gaynor, son of Dennis Gaynor of the Gaynor-Mitchell Mfg. Co.; Charles H. Kellogg, Jr., son of Hastings, Charles D. H. Kellogg, Jr. and Abraham Zimmerman.

In the first year class are: George H. DeLaune, son of John DeLaune, son of Erick B. Hawley, Carl M. Lynne, Morton O. Sterling, J. P. Williams, H. W. Willis, Russell C. Wilnot, Edward Savage, who played end on this year's team.

Mister Clark Slapped

Miss Gaffney Because She Called Him Drunk

Then Mister Clark's Best Girl Make Him go to Priest and Take Pledge and Prosecutor Made Him Apologize to Slappee.

Ida Gaffney, who lives in Berkshire avenue, complained to Prosecuting Attorney DeLaune this morning that Clarence Clark of Brooks street had slapped her face. The prosecutor asked Clark if he was not ashamed to strike a woman. Clark said, "Well she told my best girl that she saw me drunk on the street and she said she would go up to the priest and take the pledge. I nerved drank a drop in my life."

There were no marks on Miss Gaffney's face and Clark said he had only touched her gently when she had dared him to strike. Miss Gaffney said that all she wanted was a block of soap. Clark apologized. Clark and Miss Gaffney work at the Holmes & Edwards factory. When she quit work at 4 o'clock this morning Clark also quit so that they both arrived at the police station at about the same time.

Deaths and Funerals

The funeral of John J. McCarthy were held yesterday afternoon from his late residence at 453 North Main street at 1:30 o'clock and thence to St. Augustine's church where Rev. Patrick J. McCormack read the services. A delegation of five Catholic priests, C. W. of which the deceased was a member, attended the funeral in a body, and served as pall bearers. The funeral was held at 12 o'clock.

Mrs. Louisa King, a well known resident of the West End, died at her home, 363 Hancock avenue, Saturday afternoon at 10 o'clock. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Josephine Brennan and Mrs. Catherine Lathrop, and one son, Ernest King.

Smith Home, "Westlawn," Sold to Ella A. Jones

Ella A. Jones, wife of George H. Jones, of Brooklyn, N. Y., has purchased "Westlawn," formerly the residence of E. C. Smith, the theatrical manager, who was recently ordered to pay $200 by a court at Albany to Jessie Carl Smith, now Jessie Carl.

Freshman football team, and who is now a member of Book and Snake, one of "Shet's" best societies; Horace B. Merwin, son of the late Orange Merwin; and Charles G. Waldo, Jr.

Bridgeport has representatives in every department of Yale, Medical School, Law School and in the Art and Music Schools. The Art School: Frank A. Armstrong, Lophtha B. Brown, daughter of Senator William R. Brown; Harriet Jane Roe, and Edna B. Northrop, daughter of Architect Joseph W. Northrop. The Medical School: Ben B. Finkelshtein, Harry Williams, and C. J. Gade and George B. Garlick, son of Dr. Samuel M. Garlick.

The Law School: Emil Greenbaum and Ivan Morehouse of Stratford are the only graduates of this department from this vicinity. In the second year class Harry Burnstine is making a notable record, having taken high honors last year. Other members of this class are Arthur Conley, son of Judge William H. Conley; E. Earle Garlick, son of Dr. Samuel M. Garlick; Aaron and Henry H. Wittatell, graduates of Yale academic and "Shet" respectively, and William M. Ziff.

Several of the prominent ministers of the city are pursuing special studies in the Yale Divinity School, among whom are the Rev. Mr. DeForest, pastor of the West End Congregational church, and a graduate of Beloit College in 1904; Rev. Hamilton Franklin Saxon, pastor of the Newfield M. E. church and a graduate of New York University and of the Drew Theological Seminary; and Mr. Sturges Hall, pastor of the Summerfield M. E. church; J. Maurice Deyo, of Fairfield, Yale academic '08, is doing graduate work in the Divinity School.

In the Graduate School John B. DeForest is taking work in French for the Master of Arts degree. Mr. DeForest, who is a son of Judge Robert E. DeForest, is at present teaching in the Cheshire Preparatory School, Cheshire, Conn. John M. Miller, who has been an instructor in the University for the past three years, is taking graduate work in Physics for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy.

The largest number of Bridgeporters are in the first year Law class, this being the last year that a high school course is sufficient to gain entrance. Among the members of this class are Frank H. Myers, formerly connected with Watson's Bank; Arthur Wren, son of John Wren; John T. A. Hubbard, step-son of C. Frederick Stead, treasurer of the Salts-Textile Mfg. Co.; Hugh Joseph Lavery, president of the St. Joseph's P. L. & E. Others are: Harry A. Goldstein, Frank P. Munich, Ben. J. Weinstein, Samuel Mellett, Hans H. Giese, Walter F. Polk, Ernest Berge, Francis J. Breen, George M. Finkelshtein, Lawrence S. Finkelshtein, Robert Ross Ferrett, son of John W. Ferrett, and John T. A. Hubbard, nephew of Daniel N. Morgan, former treasurer of the U. S. Bank. The next class in the number of students attending Yale, New Haven is first with 435, Hartford second with 92, and Westport has 75.

In nearly all of the smaller colleges of New England there is at least one Bridgeport. At Dartmouth are William H. DeLaune, son of John DeLaune, and John Clark, son of Dr. Charles E. Sanford, is at Williams College. Arthur Hammond, son of Dr. Martin B. Hammond, is at Thomas P. Taylor Co., and Curtis Tracy are at the University of Maine and only representative at Harvard is Charles E. Smith, son of John E. Smith. Worthen and Harvey Irving are at Worcester "Tech," and in the same class are: Stephen Phelan, nephew of former Secretary of State John J. Phelan; Homer Schmidt, R. H. S., '06, is now a Junior at Wesleyan; Leo McElroy, son of former Tax Collector McElroy is just home from Notre Dame College of South Bend, Indiana, where he has just completed his third year.

Building Line Test

Case is in Hearing Counsel for Defendant's Claim that Section of Charter Involved is Unconstitutional Because Class Legislation.

Before Justice of the Peace Deputy Judge Frank L. Wilder, at the County Court house this morning an injunction brought by John Tomasco, against Nathaniel Kraut, both residents of Stillman street, restraining the latter from erecting a building over the building line on Stillman street was granted. Early this morning Kraut applied to the Common Council for the establishment of a building line of Stillman street, and the application was granted. The proceedings are brought under the recent amendment to the city charter which provides that any person within a block of a street who proposed projection beyond a building line may have an injunction preventing it. Kraut argued that the provision is not constitutional because it limits the persons who may enjoy the remedy to those within a block and is therefore class legislation.

W. G. COMSTOCK DEAD

(Special from United Press.) Hartford, June 21.—W. G. Comstock, great-grandfather of the present owner, died at his home in East Hartford today of kidney trouble. He is survived by two brothers.

Bridgeport Names Are Absent from Tentative

List of Appointees

Rumor Has It that Governor Weeks Has Men Picked for Appointment to Three Jobs as Tuberculosis Director.

Governor Weeks will appoint three directors for the three tuberculosis hospitals authorized by the state, within a few days it is said. The appointees will, it is believed, be Dr. J. P. C. Foster of New Haven, Attorney E. Hall of New Haven, and John Gunshannon of Hartford. The salary of each director is $2,500 per annum and $500 is allowed for expenses each year. It had been believed that Mayor Henry Lee of this city or Dr. C. Lincoln Banks would be the appointee for Fairfield County.

Large rugs from a unique mill at a great saving.

The great big carpet mills of the Alexander Smith & Sons' company are unique. They are kept running every day, year in and year out. There are no shut-downs if orders happen to be coming in slowly. The workers are kept busy all the time—and rugs and carpets are produced literally by the mile.

There are, in the big force, about 350 workers who have been with the factory over 20 years. Within a week, those workers have received $1,000 each as a bequest from Mrs. Cochran, daughter of the founder of the business, who took this way of rewarding those who had aided in building the big fortune which she received from her father and which had grown still bigger since it became hers.

All last year the big Smith mill kept running on full time although business was counted as poor by many manufacturers. And the surplus was allowed to pile up in the large store-houses of the company. But, of course, it could not stay there and in April an auction sale was held in New York to dispose of this accumulation.

This store was among the buyers at that auction and the excellent rugs bought then have just arrived. Think of it; nearly two months ago—and so great was the sale, that purchases made then have only just been received!

But here they are. And they are to be sold as they were bought; at less than regular prices. With the purchases made at the auction, we place on sale some carpets from the well-chosen stock of Carpet Hall; carpets that are sturdy and handsome and new-pattern and dependable.

HARRIMAN'S DEATH ABROAD. WALL ST. REPORT

(Special from United Press.) New York, June 21.—An unconfirmed rumor that E. H. Harriman died in Austria today caused considerable excitement in Wall Street this afternoon. The origin of the report could not be traced. A sharp break in the market followed the circulation of the report.

Neither the Union Pacific directors nor the personal friends of Harriman have any information tending to show that there is any truth in the report. Harriman is supposed to be in Vienna, where he placed himself under the care of eminent specialists, having announced when he left New York that he would take orders from the doctors when he placed himself in their hands.

Banker Lancher, who saw Harriman in Europe last week, gave out a statement Saturday night in which he says he was surprised to see how ill the railroad man looked. Lancher said that Harriman was a very sick man. Harriman's friends say he is in about the same condition as when he left New York.

WILDER DEMANDS RETURN OF BOY

Conflict Between City Court and Reform School Over Custody of Richard Larkin, Whose Parents Prefer Jail for Him.

A clash between the authorities in charge of the State Reform School at Meriden and Judge Wilder of the City court may result in the former being in contempt of the latter. Richard Larkin, one of a number of boys committed to the school last week upon a conviction of petty burglary, is in the school. The parents of Larkin, claiming that he is beyond the legal age when boys can be sent to the school under the statute, have asked for his release. They want him tried and sent to jail, if he is again found guilty, believing a short term in jail better for him than a number of years in the school.

The school, however, refused to deliver the boy upon the request of the court. This morning Judge Wilder gave a formal order for the boy to be returned to the school. Judge Wilder presented it to the authorities of the school this afternoon. Judge Wilder believes that the court which imposed the sentence may suspend it and bases his action upon this view.
